Tshirts: Something on the front, team name, budget.

Logo fonts: A lengthy process of voting occurs. Font 10 is chosen. The name of the font is Tall Paul. Wayne knows a guy with this name. Emera feels that bold is better.

Logo other: Nick draws a figure. Circuit to bio transition background, mascot on center, font #10 on there somewhere. There are some concerns about getting it actually printed. Border removal is discussed. Collection of sponsor logos is being taken care of by Wayne.

Tshirt color is discussed. People are thinking of that. Emera will decide.

Presentation again: Emera has francophone presentation skills. Fluff at the beginning and the end. Fluff = non-scientific discussion type stuff.

Modeling: The modeling stuff looks decent. Need to do a couple of slides on it, finish the front end.

Thus far, lots of people are being voluntold. Who gave Shannon the marker!??

More stuff was divided up.

Emera might be emailing you to find out the shirt size. Creepy. Or that's what she thinks anyways.

Shannon doesn't want to look fat.

Emera says that you can head down to Bang-On on Whyte ave to check out the sizing.

Poster was supposed to be talked be about, but the night is wearing on, so not today.

Next meeting is going to be the last one of the summer.
